BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 22.—Fourteen young men, said to be rightfully holding on the State farm for the feeble-minded at Orient, Ohio, were rescued from the strip mine of Heinz Brothers at Turtle Creek, near here today by Pennsylvania State Policemen and agents of the Ohio Welfare Department, hurried to Pittsburgh and taken on the first train to Ohio.

The story has often been told but the versions have all been from the white man's viewpoint. Judge Beede's is that told by the Red Man.

"The general Indian view of the affair," he began, "is that it was a defensive battle, for their wives and homes. It was no ambush; if anyone, the Indians were the victims. They insist it was a fair fight, in the open, and the bad side won."

This action was taken over the project of Frank J. Bentz, general manager of the company, and without the knowledge of Sheriff Wessells of Allegheny county. Bentz, in a statement today, declared that the "boys," as they were termed, had been adjudged mentally and physically competent by physicians and that the company had employed counsel to fight the case in the Ohio courts.

Sgt. Creps, who commanded the detail of police sent from the state capitol to Orient, M. M. Hawk and J. Donovan, the Ohio agents, said in a statement to the Associated Press tonight that the raid was a consequence of official declarations of the Ohio agents that the young miners were wards of Ohio and were working for low wages under "unreasonable" conditions.

Sgt. Creps said he made a personal inspection two days before the raid and confirmed the charges.

"Several days ago," said Sgt. Creps, "I went to the camp to ascertain just what the conditions were."

When I arrived there, I found the fourteen inmates in a small car used as a bunkhouse. They were so dirty I couldn't identify one from the other.

"Donovan and Hawk showed me their warrants and we decided to raid the camp early this morning."

"CONDITIONS TERRIBLE"

Traveling by automobile, we reached the camp at 2 o'clock. We found the fourteen boys, all dirty, some dressed and some undressed, some in rags and some in clean clothes. Sanitary conditions were terrible.

The boys seemed glad to get away. Some said they were paid ings of ships receiving compensation also would go into the fund. Compensation to ships would be authorized for periods not exceeding ten years. Even with this aid, Mr. Greene said, American ship owners would have to show initiative, because "the compensation would not equalize the difference in labor cost between American and foreign ships."

"It is precisely estimated," he continued, "that our total costs of actual shipping compensation will not call for a greater amount of subsidy or compensation than $12,900,000 or $15,000,000 for the first year, and that an eventual expenditure of about $20,000,000 will create and maintain total American shipping in foreign trade of 7,500,000 tons gross register—an capable of carrying from fifty to one hundred per cent or the greater portion of the imports and exports of the United States."

Mr. Greene called attention to the feature whereby if, in any one year, net profits of any ship exceed $15 per cent, the balance would be paid out until the amount of the compensation was returned to the treasury. This, he said, would prevent profiteering, by giving a detailed explanation of the remaining questions and meeting all attacks which had been expressed belief that most shipping people wanted it passed, although they declared they had displayed slight interest in its framers and had not attempted to dominate or direct its enactment. Mr. Edmonds said he was firmly convinced that the compensation provided was sufficiently large to make up for the loss of operation under the American flag and guaranteed an even return.

Asked if the compensation would be perpetual, Mr. Edmonds declared that in the history of all nations granting it, there had developed a gradual decrease until in the end it became almost negligible.

"Great Britain started with a big subsidy," he said. "Today it is a small subvention. Japan, after twenty years of high subsidy, is reducing it, and still is able to keep her ships on the sea, while doing so."

American shipping, he shouted, had been curbed by legislation and paperwork navigation laws.

The government's position was preposterous, he retorted, to say Paul, Mr. Bankhead told the House the issues involved, and the contemplated expenditures were so great that it was the duty of the bill's proponents to show that there was no other remedy for present economic conditions. He characterized it as a "monstrosity."

"Under this measure," he said, "the Standard Oil Company, owning its own tankers to move its oil in oil tankers, would be forced to hand out of the treasury $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 annually, just for the privilege of hauling its own product."

"We voted and voted raid on the treasury. The steel corporations is similarly benefited, while the United Frat Company, operating its own fleet of ships to Central America, can go to the board at the end of a year and say, we have traveled so many miles and demand a million dollars or two as a Christmas present."

In his opening attack, Mr. Nelson, the Republi-ship leaders that if they "would hold the masses and not to the ship profiteers." He insisted the bill would bring a return of 32 per cent annually, and that to ship owners and operators.

"You know what the people think of the Hatch-Cummins Act, with its 14 per cent or 16 per cent guarantee?"

Mr. Nelson's statement, as to the 12½ per cent return was challenged by a number of Republicans, Representative Mills, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, York, insisting the figures were wrong, and that the return might be wiped out by operating costs.

There was never a large attendance on the floor, but the debate was followed with unusual interest.

CUSTER FRAY NO AMBUSH

"The smoke from the rifles hung close to the ground; the Indians, riding past the little knoll on which the whites were perched, fired into the smoke. Most, I am told, opposed Custer. And the Indians were the better armed."

Gen. Custer had got himself in disfavor by revealing the secrets of a huge system of graft in selling supplies to the western forts which involved a revenue of a high official.

"When Custer went into battle he had been instructed not to attack until Gen. Terry arrived with reinforcements. But he knew he might soon be disgraced and dropped from the Army, so he took the big chance of beating the Indians. He was not foolish, as many people think since he would have won the battle if Major Reno had not been drunk and failed to hold the thicket which he captured while Custer came around from the rear."

Chicago Yacht Completes Trip Around World

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Competing its voyage around the world the little 58-foot yacht Speejack with Albert J. Gowen and party of Chicagoans on board, arrived safely early today at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The last lap of the trip across the Atlantic 250 miles from St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, to San Juan, was made in eleven days according to a telegram which has just reached Chicago from Mr. Gowen.

NOTICE!
Extensive additions to the mechanical equipment of The Times are now being made to meet the tremendous demands of the paper's growth in size and circulation. It is expected that the new machinery, including one of the biggest and finest presses in the world, will be in operation within thirty days. In the meantime, small delays may occasionally occur in the delivery of the paper, due to these re-adjustments. Every effort is being made to reduce such delay to a minimum.

Occidental Fight a Probable Factor in Game

Conference Title Struggle a Dunning Card

Pomona's machine-like offense will be pitted against Occidental's dangerous defense on Patterson Field tomorrow and on the international merit of these two methods of winning football games depends the Southern California Conference championship.

Coach Nixon boasts the smoothest working offensive in the South and to date has found no team capable of staving off the fierce onslaughts of his team. If he can't make good through the lines they will gallop gaily around the ends and when that method fails they toss forward passes with bright abandon and much accuracy.

Occidental on the other hand has found her defense her best offense. The Tigers have won four consecutive conference games by simply breaking up the other fellow's game, smashing the ball and scoring on them when least expected. The result has been found to be very disastrous.

Both teams indulged in their last night, spending most of the time polishing up their teamwork and shining up the fine points of their play. Scrrimmage work has been completed

HOT SCRAMBLE IN CENTRAL LEAGUE

When Covina yesterday afternoon trounced Bill Peeler's championship Monrovia eleven 14 to 6 they threw the Central League situation into a terrible mess. Monrovia had still a clear right to the title but owing to injuries which crippled the team will probably not participate in the play-off for the California championship.

At present Citrus Union and Covina are tied for second place and one or the other must represent the league with the odds in favor of Coach Sturges' Citrus outfit. Citrus not only defeated the Covina team a week ago but previously had beaten Redlands which in turn defeated Covina. The situation may be unscrambled today.

THL PLAY BY PLAY

Play by play information on the California-Stanford game Saturday will be received at Central Y.M.C.A. by telephone and announced through a loud-speaker in the lobby. It is planned to tune in on the broadcasting messages at 2:45 p.m. and give the up-to-the-minute information to fans unable to make the trip to Palo Alto. The latest thing in receiving and announcing apparatus is being installed and operated by the Radio Sales and Service Company of West Seventh street, through the courtesy of Mr. Garrison of that company.

ROME TO STAGE TENNIS TOURNEY

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS

ROME, Nov. 22.—Invitations have been sent to the tennis federations of Germany, Austria, France, England, Belgium and Spain to send teams to the International hard court tournament in Rome next May.

Germany has accepted the invitation to send a team captained by Kleinroth, Germany's first ranking player.

and the players on the two teams are engaged in the pleasant process of trying to gain about something other than the big scramble.

While the Sagehens still continue to be slight favorites over the Tigers their margin has slipped to the point where it is scarcely to be seen with the naked eye. The comparative score seems to indicate the Pomona team has been made favorite has been overcome by the very potent argument that to date Occidental has been able to make whatever points were needed to

Preparations have been made by Coach McLain to Occidental to handle one of the largest crowds of the gridiron year. The big stands at Patterson Field which are capable of holding 15,000 people are expected to be jammed to capacity as the interest in the championship struggle and the freshman game which precedes it has arisen to a very high pitch.

Manager McLain yesterday announced that the freshman game would start promptly at 1 o'clock and would be called on the dot of 2:30, regardless of circumstances.

The kick-off of the championship game will take place promptly at 3:45. Automobile parking for Holes of swagger brough looks—footwear that radiates distinction, you'll see these rich, leathers everywhere—the style, man—and a most droll, sensible style it is, in devans, calfskins in leathers in mahogany brown and black.

He is one of the best known horsemen, at the first time at the meeting this coming Sunday, he will be the first to speak of the severity of its competition, and the University of Washington game. He will probably get into the O.A.C. game Saturday.

"COYOTES" READY FOR OPPONENTS

Bishop High Pack Will Play the Fast Owensmouth Eleven Today

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BISHOP, Cal., Nov. 23.—The howl of the "coyotes" on the trail of the Southern California football championship will be heard in the San Fernando Valley tomorrow, when the fast Bishop high team will play Owensmouth, the champion of the valley, Aug. 24.

For two years Coach Joe Riley has been grooming the Bishop pack for entrance into fast company and tomorrow's game will be the first that the "Coyotes" have played against Eastern California and Nevada.

In their home country the "Coyotes" have run down every team that has opposed them this season, their only defeat in two years being in a "toss" game with the Fresh team of the University of Nevada. They held the heavy collegians to a 12 to 6 score.

Riley is a speed demon. "Use your head and your feet," is the last and last paragraph of his coaching code.

The pack is led by "Doll" Dohy, one of the brainiest and fastest half-quarterbacks ever developed in this section.

better team than it has played against all year. The spirit of the thing will rouse them to that.

Andy Smith is debating with himself right now as to how he will break the deadlock in the Bishop game. He has two sets of backs and all eight men are working good now, but as only four of them can play at one time four mighty good men will be sitting on the bench when the ball is kicked or open the game.

One combination is composed of Captain Spaulding, Nicholai, Dunn at halfbacks, and Nisbet at fullback. Another is Erb with Nicholai and Spaulding and Morrison.

Folks who were clamoring to see Eric Muller make some of his celebrated forays in the Stanford-Nevada game last Saturday were disappointed. They are still demanding that Eric be allowed to throw a few against Stanford in his last game.

Another has trained so many hours for each position at Stanford that he will not lack for substitutes next Saturday. Cleveland, Murray, Dougherty, Wilcox, Woodward, Cuddeback, Campbell and Dennis have been working hard at their coaching on the backfield so it will not be necessary to keep a boy in after he has tired and slowed down. And fresh men often put a lot of life into a tired team and start it going. Just as Eric did when he was in the closing minutes of last Saturday's game.

eventually attain Class AA form.

At Prince Brown's insistence, the league will be gathered into the fold, and will be given a chance to show his wares in March, as will Trautwein, who worked out some with the club toward the end of the season.

Peterson and Zanic were signed on the recommendation of Joe Devine, who also sleuths for Vernon. Devine, who lives in Oakland, regards each of them as fine, and waxed highly enthusiastic over Peterson, especially, who he describes as "the dead ringer for Baby Meuse." Peterson is nineteen years old, stands six feet, and is depicted as fast, a hard hitter and endowed with a great arm.

"You can bank on him making good," writes Devine to President Maier, which wasn't a bit displeasing to the big Tiger chief.

Though several of the Oregon stars were injured against the Aggies, all but Brown and possibly Spaulding are in shape for Bauch's men. George Koenig had his hip sustained late in the game, but he will be in shape for the Vikings.

EUGENE (Ore.) Nov. 23.—The Oregon eleven is settling down again to strict grueling for the Thanksgiving Day clash with the University of Washington. While their work has been fairly light, just enough to keep the men in shape, the Webfoot gridsters will be going at full speed from now on.

Mercurians' Record Fails to Worry Britishers

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

More than ordinary interest has been aroused in the soccer game between the L.A.A.C. and the Sons of St. George at Washington Park next Sunday afternoon, and one of the largest crowds of the season is looked for.

Their meeting provides one of those illustrations which are not uncommon in soccer football, a supposedly inferior team faces a supposedly superior one. To the credit of the Britishers, it is said they have no fear of the Mercurians, who are in shape for the record, and will enter the battle with as much confidence as they would tackle a team, which, in the general belief, is on their level.

According to Manager Wright the Sons will go on the field convinced that little gods have feet of clay. They are not scared by reputations. They recognize, of course, that men like Dr. Briz, Lazcano, Doyle are dangerous, but while Krasner and others will not inspire them to play with greater determination.

Battered and torn as the result of their many heart-breaking defeats the Sons are still full of the spirit of the game and play that has made them the best in the division in the league.

The Athletic Club will rely on the same team that has carried their colors so well this season, with one exception. Al Milford, who has been playing left wing in excellent form at the hospital line, and not able to be sent to the game for three weeks. Manager Reinhold has not yet announced his substitute. The club is traveling at a merry clip, and has established some compelling power over her.

"Listen, please," he went on. "I have spoken to you in words which make all things possible between us, and now I may let my heart speak. Some place not far from Pekin I have a palace, where my lands slope to the river. She rested her fingers on his hand.

"You are a magician," she confessed. "I was very angry. It brings great pain to a man to see the beauty he loves droop her wings, flutter down to earth, and walk the winding highway."

Her eyes fell. He seemed to have established some compelling power over her.

IEWS DIFFER IN RAIL CASE

Opinion Divided on Break of Road Merger

Compromise on Court Ruling is Hinted At

Central Pacific Control Up
at Hearing

BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Division of western opinion as to the advisability of forcing the separation of the Central Pacific Railroad from the Southern Pacific was indicated today with the introduction of testimony of the first two witnesses of the general public before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Atholl McBean of San Francisco, as chairman of a California shipper committee which he asserted paid $20,000,000 a year in freight bills, said the maintenance of the merger was essential to Pacific Coast development, while Graft E. Haldeman, for the Colorado State Public Utilities Commission, said the merger intended to divert traffic from his State, and that the Supreme Court division ordering its dissolution should be put into effect.

HINTS COMPROMISE

Commissioner Potter, from the bench, indicated in the proceedings an intimation of a possible compromise by querying witnesses as to whether the effect would be an entirely new arrangement under which the Southern Pacific would retain all of the Central Pacific lines except the transcontinental route from San Francisco to Oregon.

L. J. Spence, director of traffic for the Southern Pacific, to whom the questions were first addressed, said the traffic statistics which the commissioners sought had not been prepared. The proposal was considered of importance since the Supreme Court ordered the dissolution on the ground that the Southern Pacific, in operating its own transcontinental system, by ownership of the Central Pacific had limited competition.

ESPEE IN PLEA

The Southern Pacific, charging that the divorce would split up its entire network of lines on the Pacific Coast, had asked the Commission to allow it to retain temporary possession of the Central Pacific by exercising authority which it has for bringing about general consolidation of railroads.

For several hours H. A. Scandrett, counsel for the Union Pacific, which is opposing the Southern Pacific divorce, Sept. 1, Mr. Spence under a fire of questions designed to show that the Southern Pacific traffic policies did not work out to divert business from the Central.

Rates and traffic arrangements in effect from the Atlantic Coast westward, both by rail and water, were exhaustively analyzed in the process.

RURAL CREDITS LAW HOPE OF FARM BLOC

SENATOR CAPPER OFFERS NEW LEGISLATION IN UPPER HOUSE

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Agricultural members of Congress now believe that it may be possible to enact rural credits legislation before the session ends, Senator Capper of Kansas, head of the farm bloc, introduced in the Senate today the ne will sponsored by the American National Live Stock Association and approved by Eugene Meyer Jr., managing director of the War Finance Corporation. Senator Capper will call members of his bloc together next week for consideration of this bill and others previously introduced and it is his belief that agreement on a plan can be brought about without much delay.

The Capper bill was referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency, of which Senator McLean of Connecticut is chairman. The committee is expected to begin hearings some time in December following the annual address of President Harding to Congress in which a recommendation for the enactment of rural credits legislation was made. It is understood that Mr. Meyer is seeking the President's endorsement of the Capper bill, but the President is likely to deal with the subject only in a general way, leaving it to Congress to work out the details of the bill.

Senator Capper believed that the bill introduced in the Senate today will form the basis for discussion from which an acceptable measure can be drafted. He thinks that changes will be necessary.

Most of the members of the farm bloc have been inclined to favor the setting up of an independent rural credit system and are of the opinion that the Capper bill goes too far in its amendments to the Federal Reserve Act.

The Capper bill makes it possible for Federal reserve banks to rediscount agricultural paper of certain kinds under guarantees of at least nine months, which is not possible at the present time.

The bill also authorizes the formation of agricultural credit corporations throughout the country with power to make loans for periods up to three years, and does not provide for a central corporation similar to the War Finance Corporation.

There is strong sentiment in the farm bloc for such a corporation.

The Capper bill, in the opinion of some of the farm bloc, takes care of the live-stock industry in a more satisfactory manner than other branches of agriculture.

Defending the treaty, which has been agreed to in principle, as pertains to Arizona's interests, Gov.

Campbell said:

"I believe the compact as far as it stands out when I left Santa Fe is not only fair to the State, but that it is necessary in order that our State may participate in government projects and enjoy the benefits of private enterprise."

No action can be taken to ratify the compact before the end of the present Administration, and the fate of the compact will depend upon the action of the incoming Legislature, which will meet shortly after January 1. Gov.

Campbell declared.

SUCCESSOR TO DAY NOMINATED

Harding Names Pierce Butler
for Supreme Court

Is Democrat and Noted as Minnesota Lawyer

Restores Former Ratio to Highest Tribunal

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The nomination of Pierce Butler of Minnesota as associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States to succeed William R. Day of Ohio, resigned, was sent to President Harding today to the Senate. Mr. Butler is a practicing attorney of St. Paul, 56 years of age, and a Democrat.

Mr. Butler was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court on May 26, 1894, and since then frequently has appeared before that bench in the argument of important cases, including the Minnesota rate cases in 1915, decided by Justice Hughes. The appointment upsets the balance which existed when Justice Clarke resigned. He, a Democrat, was succeeded by Justice Sutherland, a Republican, but by selecting a Democrat to succeed Justice Day, Republican, the court will again stand six Republicans and three Democrats.

KNOWN TO COLLEAGUES
Chief Justice Taft and Associate Justice Van Devanter, who were the only ones nominated with the new associate justice than are their colleagues, but he is known to them all. With the former he was engaged in the Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad Company arbitration. In that case Mr. Butler won his contention as counsel for Canada. Mr. Taft dissenting.

In the Senate the nomination was referred to the Judiciary Committee, where it will be considered next Monday. A favorable report is expected.

The nomination will place upon the bench another lawyer who has not won theernine by previous service upon the bench. Like Justice Holmes and Brandeis, the new justice never sat in Congress nor occupied a Cabinet or other important Federal office.

APPOINTED ON MERITS
Justice Sutherland, the second associate of the court appointed by President Taft, was a Senatorial colleague of his, having been a Senator from Utah, but Mr. Butler won his distinction strictly by his legal practice and not by any connection of Federal district.

It was stated today in court circles that Chief Justice Taft gave the President untried recommendation of Mr. Butler's qualifications when the Chief Executive advised him that Mr. Butler was being considered for the vacant Senatorial seat of Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota, as well as others prominent in northwestern affairs, also gave the president praise of Mr. Butler's abilities as a lawyer.

Other factors in the declined illness of Justice Pitney, who returned to Washington yesterday from his home at Morristown, N. J., it is expected that the President will in the near future make his fourth appointment to the supreme bench.

UPHOLDS DUAL TRIALS

IN PROHIBITION CASES

STATE AND FEDERAL COURTS
BOTH MAY PROSECUTE, ARGUMENT

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Collector-General Beck contended in the Supreme Court today that both Federal and State governments can punish the same violation of a national prohibition amendment.

He insisted in the case appealed by the United States that the State of Lanza, Dick Barte and others, violated in a State court in Washington for the manufacture and possession of intoxicating liquor, that they could also be tried in a Federal court on the same charge. The United States District Court for Western Washington refused to take that view and dismissed the principal counts in an indictment under which the Federal government sought to bring them to trial, on the ground that they had already been punished for the same offense by the State of Washington.

Contending that the prohibition amendment had wiped out State laws so far as intoxicating liquors are concerned, John F. Dore, attorney for Lanza and his associates, asserted that the concurrent jurisdiction conferred by the amendment upon the States did not mean "double jurisdiction" as claimed by the government.

FADISTRAKE APPREHENDED

Ayer reñido gran excitación en Glendale cuando se dieron a conocer los pormenores de un famoso ataque de la Sra. Mary Jones, de 21 años de edad, enferma del Sanatorio y Hospital de Glendale.

La Sra. Jones, disvariando a causa de la tremenda lucha que tuvo con un hombre, al parecer decidido a cometer un asesinato y sufriendo de una profunda herida en el cuello cabelludo y de la consiguiente pérdida de sangre, pudo dar bien pocas informes a las autoridades, pero, después de breve averiguación policial, su padres, Prof. Arturo Granda, de Arcadia, fue reducido a prisión. Grandy niega tener conocimiento alguno del ataque.

Temiéndose que pueda haber otro ataque, por la circunstancia de que el asistente de la Sra. Jones, en el Sanatorio, de Arcadia, se dejaron anochec enterramientos iluminados los edificios y terrenos del hospital, ponéndose comp-

ARMOUR REPRESENTATIVES

ARE BUSY IN CAPITAL
OVER DETAILS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Arrival in Washington of representatives of Armour & Co. to resume negotiations with government officials relative to the proposed consolidation of Chicago packing firms.

The present plan of the firm is to have Arthur to consult with banks relative to financing the deal, to report to the administration that the administration is looking favorably on the merger.

Opposition to the proposed merger is developing at the capital and

Senator La Follette plans to address a speech with respect to the resolution calling upon Secretary Wallace, as administrator of the Packing Control Act, for all information concerning the proposal and what action the government may contemplate.

It was reported tonight that one of the reasons for return of the

Armour representatives to Wash-

FRATERNITY TO OPPOSE RULING*Beta Phi Sigma Denies It to High School BodyPasadena Student Case May be Taken to CourtLegal Battle to Determine Status of Members*

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent PASADENA, Nov. 22.—Awaiting a decision from the State Board of Education on whether Fred Gentry, expelled from the high school here because of his membership in the Beta Phi Sigma fraternity, is to be reinstated following his resignation from the organization, the Pasadena chapter of the Greek letter society is preparing to show, in the advent of an adverse ruling, that the organization is distinctly not a high school body.

"Efforts to bring about the reinstatement of Gentry," City Manager C. W. Koehler, an honorary member of the fraternity, said today, "are based on the fact that membership in Beta Phi Sigma is not contingent upon attendance at high school."NATIONAL BODY

It is plain, it is declared, that the State antifraternity statutes affecting high schools do not apply to Beta Phi Sigma because the organization is national in scope, and is made up of men between the ages of 21 and 35 years. Many of the members, it is stated, are college graduates. Correct interpretation of the statutes, members here declare, does not possibly include the fraternity as coming under State ruling.

Gentry was expelled from school three weeks ago by Principal William F. Ewing. On the advice of fellow-members of the fraternity, he resigned and applied for reinstatement. He has not yet been allowed to return to his classes, and it is charged that Superintendent of Schools John Franklin West promised that the reinstatement would be forthcoming immediately following the resignation from the fraternity.

LEGAL BATTLE POSSIBLE

The agitation of the Pasadena chapter of the fraternity may result in a strenuous legal battle to determine the status of high school students as members of national fraternities. William J. Carr, former State Senator and prominent attorney, was consulted even prior to the expulsion from school of Gentry and it is likely that he will be retained in the first case by the fraternity.

Action by high school authorities against Gentry followed the convention of the fraternity here last June. It became known that Gentry was a member of the organization when his name appeared in news accounts of the convention. At this convention City Manager Koehler was made an honorary member of the society.

The Pasadena chapter of the fraternity includes sons of some of the wealthiest and most prominent families of the city and it is asserted that funds will be available for extended court action to clear the atmosphere of antifraternity statutes which the fraternity still consider threatening above the horizon of school activities at frequent intervals.

Prof. Milliken Tells University Club Responsibility for European Conditions Rests on United States

Prof. Robert A. Milliken, director of the Norman Bridge Laboratory of Physics at the California Institute of Technology, told several hundred members of the University Club last night that the chief responsibility for the deplorable conditions in Europe rests squarely on the shoulders of the United States.

Dr. Milliken's address was based on his recent observations gleaned in England, France, Belgium and Germany, from which countries he recently returned after serving as the first exchange professor of the C.R.B. Foundation, created from an $18,000,000 fund which the Hoover Belgian Relief Commission possessed at the close of the war.

The salient points of Dr. Milliken's address were contained in the following frank statements:

"The most discreditable year in American history was that year which followed the end of the war. All of England, France and Germany thinks that way."

LOST CONFIDENCE

"We have forced Europe back. If we had lived up to our international opportunities we would not have lost that most precious thing any nation can have—the confidence of other nations. We have lost the confidence of all other nations. Every one of those nations are now distrustful of us. I think we have laid down on our responsibilities."

"You have heard good Republicans say we should scrap the League of Nations. Now that is silly. We cannot start a new League of Nations. Republicans and Democrats were both united in this present League at one time."

"We are now hanging on to the old party bonds. It is a very small a thing for any thinking man to hang on to. We've got to Dr. Milliken spoke of the need of an international language. Though not quite definite, he said, he stated that it was quite likely Esperanto would soon be adopted by the schools of all nations."

INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGE

"We were fed during the war on propaganda," he continued, "and you don't find that the situation warranted all the propaganda played up in our patriotic campaigns."

"He did not doubt the atrocities of the Germans, but he declared the Belgians claim the Germans were not much more brutal than the English and French troops."

"But the thing that impresses the casual visitor to Europe most is not the war itself, but the League of Nations. Republicans have made living conditions cheaper. But depreciation of currency is a terrible thing. And the chief responsibility for these conditions of the League lies on the shoulders of the United States."

COURT SUGGESTS SPANKING

Divorce Action of Dentist Against Wife Brings Out View of Jurist Regarding Naughty Wives

The bald side of a hairbrush has often been applied to naughty boys with excellent results, and Judge Burnell yesterday declared that the same treatment might have been effective if Charles E. Burnell had it on his wife, Mrs. Grace K. Burnell, the former wife of W. E. Timken, millionaire bearing manufacturer.

Burnell, who is a dentist, is suing his wife for divorce. The trial began yesterday and will be resumed today. The couple were married secretly in 1916 and separated in 1920.

No secret was their marriage. Burnell testified, that his wife's daughter by a former marriage, who traveled with them on their honeymoon, was unaware of the fact. When they stopped at hotels, he declared, he would register "Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Burnell," and his wife's maid would register, "Mrs. Grace K. Timken."

ASHAMED OF WORK

His wife, Burnell declared, was ashamed of his profession, and finally asked him to choose between her and dentistry.

"What did you do?" asked Judge Burnell.

"What could I do?" said Burnell.

"I left."

"It would probably have produced better results had you used a hairbrush," commented the judge.

The following letter, written by Mrs. Burnell after the couple had separated, was introduced as evidence.

WIFE'S LETTER

"My Esteemed Nov. 1:

It never occurred to you that it was other than your transcendent charms that caused my seeming efforts toward reconciliation, did it? I hope it will not be too much of a blow to you to learn that it is my lawyers and we propose that it would take much longer to mature than it has. Your failure to treat my advances with civility, to injure and insult what naturally are supposed to be one's tenderest feelings, is the same as a refusal to return to me."

"Your action on Tuesday made it possible for me to fulfill the requirements of the law without much loss to my dignity, and for this I thank you."

"I cannot refrain from telling you that as long ago as September I knew of your imminent return with and had the name of one of you in mind. You can imagine my carry concealed amusement at your solemn statement that he had been "true to me." If you had only shed a few tears, I would have enjoyed crocodile tears I would have enjoyed the same as a refusal to return to me."

"En passant, let me give you a tip: Tenants in business blocks who use their offices for purposes other than business are treated very severely by the law. So beware of breaking the Eleventh Commandment."

"You know it would help you wonderfully if you could only get wise to yourself. As it is, every one has your number but yourself."

[Signee] "KISMET."

Judge Burnell termed the letter "the acme of sarcasm."

WILL BE ARRAIGNED ON BOGUS CHECK CHARGE

MAN WHO OFFERED PAPER FOR DIAMOND RING MUST FACE COURT

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent PASADENA, Nov. 22.—E. T. Flick will be arraigned tomorrow in justice court here on charges of having attempted to pass a forged check for $350 on a local jewelry store in payment for a diamond ring which was seized by Detective Sergia Bettis and O'Rourke yesterday on complaint of C. E. Phillips, proprietor of the jewelry store.

The suspect, according to detective, has confessed to passing a number of worthless checks on several Paadena merchants. He is also wanted in Los Angeles and Long Beach, police here say, for similar offenses.

Flick, who was removed on charges by Sheriff Traeger, declared yesterday he would carry his fight for vindication to the Supreme Court.

"I'm not after the job," said Cronin. "But I have been accused unjustly and I want to clear my name."

Cronin said he would hold his fire on the charges until he could prove his case in a second-degree murder.

J. W. Gilky, one year to life for the Union Ice Company robbery in which two of his companions were killed by officers.

Frank Nordoff, alias Frank Norton, 18, being returned to San Quentin after testifying in another case here. He was convicted of robbery.

Charles DeForge, one year to life for robbery.

Chester Day, robbery.

John O'Bryan, convicted of a statutory offense.

Jerry McCoy, burglary and grand larceny.

Louis T. Bousquette, grand larceny.

VINDICATION IS CRONIN'S GOAL

Robert E. Cronin, former chief jailer, who was removed on charges by Sheriff Traeger, declared yesterday he would carry his fight for vindication to the Supreme Court.

"I'm not after the job," said Cronin. "But I have been accused unjustly and I want to clear my name."

Cronin said he would hold his fire on the charges until he could prove his case in a second-degree murder.

Judge Weyl declared the law was unfair in that it gave public officials under charge no chance for a hearing in court, and advised Cronin to appeal.

Cronin, charged with larceny and inefficiency. He filed an answer to the charges and says he could have proved his case in a court, but had no opportunity.

Judge Weyl held it was clear to him that the Cronin had been dismissed lawfully, but that higher courts might be of a different opinion.

The suspect, according to detective, has confessed to passing a number of worthless checks on several Paadena merchants. He is also wanted in Los Angeles and Long Beach, police here say, for similar offenses.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(By A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Further liquidation of stocks took place in today's stock market, short selling, especially in the railroad shares, accelerating the downward movement. Declines in active issues ranged from 1 to 3 points.

Public buying support was again lacking, bears pressing their advantage and being aided by increased margin calls and some further calling of loans, the value of the collateral for which had been substantially impaired by the recent reaction. A few half-hearted attempts were made to rally the list but they were given up when the outside public refused to come in. Support covering, influenced by the lower call-money rate, largely accounted for the moderate rebound in the final dealings.

Speculative disappointment over the relatively poor October earnings statements and decrease in car loadings indicating that the peak of traffic had been passed for the year resulted in the throwing over of a large volume of railroad shares, which also was reported to have been influenced by fear that the Transportation Act would be amended by Congress. Louisville and Nashville slumped to 124 and then rallied to 125 1/8 for a net loss of nearly 4 points. Rock Island 7 per cent preferred bore more than 3 points and losses of 1 to 1 1/2 took place in Atlantic Coast Line, Chicago, Illinois, western, Lackawanna, Illinois Central common and preferred, New York Central, Northern Pacific and Union Pacific. Atchison got below 100, but rallied to par at the close. Standard Oil of New Jersey rose 2 1/2 points to 105 1/2, while Standard Oil of California also rallied to 105 1/2 from 103 1/2. The rise was one of the bright spots in the industrial list, buying being favorably influenced by the price of sugar, bringing it to the high level of the market. Other sugars responded only feebly. Studebaker, which got down below 122, led the afternoon recovery, closing at a net gain of 4 1/4 of a point. Bond 120, which had been 129 1/2, rallied to 128 1/2 to its close of last night, while American Locomotive closed at a slight fractional gain.

Oil stocks were in rather free sump during the height of the reaction; net losses generally were not very large, although Producers and Refiners and Standard Oil of California each yielded more than a point.

Gasoline offered a little better resistance but final prices were mixed. United States Steel common, Bethlehem B. Republic, Republic, Crucible and Gulf States either advanced slightly or were unchanged.

National Lead failed to respond to the announcement of a higher dividend, breaking 2 points, probably in speculative disappointment over the directors' failure to declare an extra dividend, due to increasing raw material costs.

Other stocks were in rather free

sump during the height of the reaction; net losses generally were not very large, although Producers and Refiners and Standard Oil of California each yielded more than a point.

Call money operated at 8 per cent, eased off to 4 1/2 during the noon hour and then went to 4, where it closed. The time money business continued to hold around 4 1/2 per cent basis for all maturities and commercial paper rates were unchanged at 4 1/4-4 1/2 per cent for the best names.

Foreign exchange business was not quite so active as before, followed by a period of weakness. Demand sterling again touched $4.50 but later reacted to $4.49 3/8, while francs got down to $7.15. Canadian exchange continued at a slight discount.

Today's total sales, stock 952,000 shares.

Twenty industrials averaged 94.13; net loss 16.

High 1922, 102.43; low, 78.59.

Twenty railroads averaged 52.70;

net loss .62.

High, 1922, 92.99; low, 73.43.

"How Are They Performing Now?"

Well No. 1, up to date, has produced 39,360 barrels of oil. Just take it from me, she's some "Sweet Pa-tootie."

Well No. 2 has settled to a steady 2300 barrels a day and never blinks an eye.

Well No. 3—the rig is nearly completed.

Well No. 4 is drilling at 3600 feet and looking great. I just got out of a week's fishing job on this baby. That's why I have been a little short on my daily reports to you folks. You know a fellow can't spend 24 hours a day in the field and write daily messages, too.

I have been asked several times, when do I pay dividends on Nos. 1 and 2, and here's the answer: The General Petroleum Corporation are taking all our oil from the Brunson lease and they pay once each month, namely, on the 10th. Their check is received by the Bank and distributed direct to you a few days later each month. Don't worry. You'll get yours, and all of it, between the 10th and 15th every month. Sit in the boat, folks. We should be drawing good returns from these wells in ten years from now. Just leave that part to me. I know how to handle them.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Reports of increasing earnings from new royalties provided the impetus for a sharp rise in United States Royalties yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The stock advanced a nickel to $22.50 cents, closing at 47. The Union Oil issue weakened still further, Union Oil of California dropping 4¢ on a closing price of 189 1/2 and Union Oil Associates losing 1/2, finishing at 189 1/2. General Petroleum common sold at 15¢, off 1¢ from the previous day.

News of the first shipment to the Tom Reed mill from the Oatman United Mine sent Oatman United up 2 cents, the closing quotation resting at 33 1/2. Telluride sold at 25 1/2, up 1/2 cent, and Richmond gained 3 1/2 cents on a closing price of 21.

Southern California Edison common declined to a close of 104, a loss of 1/2 cent from the previous session. Los Angeles Investment completed the day at 1.32.

HEAVY TRAFFIC DUE IN HARBORTwo Big Liners Will be in Port Today*Pacific Mail Ship Colombia Sails for South*City of Los Angeles Comes in From Honolulu

Tomorrow will be another big day in off-shore passenger trade at Los Angeles, approximately 250 cabin passengers either embarking or arriving on the liners City of Los Angeles from Honolulu, and the Pacific Mail steamer Colombia, bound for New York via the canal and Havanna.

A large party of prominent Southern California will sail south on the Colombia, en route to the Brazilian Centennial Exposition at Rio de Janeiro. Among the notable passengers embarking on the Colombia are Harold S. McCormick, president of the Standard Oil Company; John W. Bunn, fruit grower of Ventura County, and wife, en route to Rio de Janeiro; Miss Orpha Foster of Venetia; Mrs. H. W. Morris, Mrs. Frank A. Lusk, Mrs. Donald Macmillan, all of Santa Monica; Herman T. Glass, Guatemalan coffee planter; and George R. Dryden, Panama Canal official.

OFFICIAL ON LIST

Also going south on the Colombia will be Jose M. Ferreira, special representative of the Mexican government, who has been on the Pacific coast on a mission to President Coolidge.

Clay Hutchinson, manager in Southern California for the Pacific Mail, announced last night that the Colombia also will load nearly 2,100 tons of canned goods, dried fruits and vegetables at this port.

The Venezuela, sister ship of the Colombia, will arrive from New York December 2 with a heavy load in passengers and a large freight cargo for the local port. Mr. Hutchinson also announced that the Venezuela, calling at San Pedro, Los Angeles, of the liner Corinth, marking her first trip under the flag of the Pacific Mail.

CALM SEAS

Glass-like seas and perfect weather have characterized the voyage of the giant white liner, City of Los Angeles, due at daybreak tomorrow from Honolulu. She carries more than 1,000 passengers and a big shipment of bananas and canned pineapples in her cargo holds according to radiograms from Captain Hans Boulen.

The pineapples will be transshipped here on steamers en route for Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

SANTA MONICA HAS NEW HOMES TRACTBy a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 23.—Opening of a new residential tract to be known as Montana Heights was announced today, following the completion of a realty deal involving a consideration of $150,000. Mr. E. C. Atkinson, San Francisco architect, who planned the tract from the J. W. Leavitt Company, it comprises the land between Montana and Idaho avenues and Idaho and Washington avenues, four square blocks in all. Improvements will be begun immediately, it was said. The tract will be divided into 100 lots. Building restrictions will be set at $2,000.

CHEMICAL PLANT HAS FOUR FIRES IN YEAR(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 22.—Five major fires destroyed the plant of the United Chemical Company, located on Santa Fe Avenue, early this morning, this being the second time the buildings have been razed since early last September. It is thought the fire originated from an overheated gas oven.

The plant, which cost $100,000 last month, at a cost of between $2000 and $4000. The company has had four fires in one year. The firm manufactures lampblack.

The factory is located outside of Huntington Park, where there is no fire protection.

OREGON TO ATTEND DEDICATION OF ROAD(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NOGALES (Ariz.) Nov. 22.—President Oregon of Mexico is expected in El Paso and Nogales about December 1, on his way to Nogales to attend the exercises of dedication of the new railroad from the coast to the Southern Pacific Railroad station of Nogales. This road, about forty-five miles in length, has been built by the Mexican government and is expected to be an outlet for the agricultural products of the rich valleys of Sinaloa, in which the President is a heavy landowner and grower of garbanzos.

FRIENDS OF HEWES RALLY TO HIS AIDBy a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Nov. 23.—Combating the movement for the recall of City Manager Charles E. Hewes, a committee of influential citizens, in co-operation with members of the City Council, start tomorrow night a series of rallies that will be conducted every night until the election next month. Members of the Council are to speak at the rallies and keen interest is being manifested in the plan.

Rear-Admiral Henry J. Ziegler, director of naval communication, inspected the radio compass at Point Fermin yesterday. He was accompanied by Capt. William Miller.

Legal

DANIEL S. HORNE, Attorney at Law, 1406 First National Bank Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Allegheny County, as the Commonwealth's attorney, to the Sheriff of Allegheny County, Greeting:

We command you, that you attach Benjamin F. Herr, non-resident of your county, not now within the County of Allegheny, late of your county, by all and singular, all good and chattels lands and tenements, now or formerly possessed, soever the same may be so that he be and appear before our Court of Common Pleas to be held at Pittsburgh, in the first district, on the first Monday of December next, there to answer Edward D. Lyon of a general indictment.

And you the said Sheriff, are hereby commanded to summon them as garnishee and especially attach all the goods and chattels of said defendant Benjamin F. Herr in and to all that certain tract of land containing 56 acres of land, more or less, lying and being in the town of Birmingham, in the state of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at a point on the public road at the corner of lands of M. B. Stoltz & Heirs, thence by said public road, bearing right, for a distance of one and twenty-one hundredths (1.21) perches to a point; thence by name, south 41° 45' degrees East, sixty and five perches, more or less, to a point; thence by name, north 41° 45' degrees East, to a point; thence by name, South 10° 00' degrees East, ten (.10) perches to a point on line of land of M. B. Stoltz & Heirs, thence South 49° 45' degrees East, one hundred three (108) perches to a point on line of lands of W. H. Hartman, thence North 49° 45' degrees West, seven and fifty hundredths (27.50) perches to a point; thence North 4° 00' degrees East, eighty-six and forty-five perches, more or less, lying and being in the town of Birmingham, in the state of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at a point on the public road, was taken up by the Grange. In its opinion, the Grange, after an investigation by the government would result in delays, great financial losses and ultimately destruction of its possibilities. It was recommended, however, that the project be completed and be given the same extent for the manufacture of fertilizer and nitrates for the farmer.

IMMIGRATION CONSIDERED

Immigration was considered. One resolution asked that foreigners be admitted to this country only on provision that they become American citizens within a stated period of time; another provided that it be deported if such provisions are not carried out. Deportation of all persons who seek to destroy the American form of government was recommended. A more specific resolution, regarding immigration of the Pacific Coast, was presented by George R. Harrison, State Master of the Grange in California. Mr. Harrison asked that House Bill No. 12,165, which denies citizenship to aliens ineligible to citizenship, be given the fullest support of the National Grange.

The Grange was unanimous in demanding that all debts owed the United States be paid. In the resolution adopted, it was brought out that the money lent was granted by the thrift and labor of the American people and that if the debts are not paid, they will be taxed heavily to repay them selves.

CHANGES OPPOSED

Implementation of the work of the Department of Agriculture and strong opposition to the proposed transfer of the bureaus of markets and forestry away from that department to the Department of Labor, was stated by Mr. Atkinson. Mr. Atkinson recommended that the joint committee of agricultural inquiry be continued, and that it make a study of the federal farm system, to ascertain whether the original purpose of the systems has been lived up to, and to continue direct government control of agriculture, and whether a new credit organization is needed to give farmers equality in credit ratings as compared to other occupatons.

He also presented the resolution that Congress enact the French-Capper "truth-in-fabric" bill as a protection to the cloth buying public and to the husbandry of American sheep.

LONG BEACH WILL SHATTER RECORDS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent LONG BEACH, Nov. 23.—All existing building records in this city will be broken by the total for the current year, officials estimate. When another $10,000 has been issued the total will equal last year's high mark of $12,100,000. It is believed that before the current year has closed a total of $15,000,000 will have been set.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH:
BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 22.—What may prove an important new oil field was heralded today by the announcement that the Standard Oil Company has brought in a 500-barrel gusher of high gravity oil on its Wheeler Ridge wildcat holdings.

The well is located in virgin territory thirty miles southwest of Bakersfield, with the nearest producing well twenty-five miles away. About five miles west of the State highway, the new well is between seven and eight miles northwest of the Tejon Pass.

The oil company started drilling about eighteen months ago on land owned by the Kern County Land Company and put down a test well which was later abandoned.

Three months ago a new well was started one-half mile west of the abandoned location and at 2000 feet oil of 35-gravity was struck.

Geologists believe that oil in large quantities underlies the low hills fringing the Ridge Route, where the highway enters the mountains south of Bakersfield.

SPOUSE LIKED TO CARESS WOMEN, WIFE COMPLAINS

A divorce suit in which $375,000 is involved was filed yesterday by Mrs. George Eisenhut against her husband, Charles Eisenhut. She asserts moral cruelty.

The couple have been married twenty-two years and sought on the 8th inst. Mrs. Eisenhut the company of other women, giving the possibility and never missed a chance to fondle and caress them.

The community property is valued at $200,000 and in addition $100,000 in life insurance. Mrs. Eisenhut claims she has stored up $100 stock in Machris Brothers' syndicate. She asks a division of this.

REAL NOBLEMAN IN FILMS

Charles de Roche, Real French Count, Arrives at Lasky's; Looks Like Hero Material

No typical darling of the films is Charles de Roche, the famous Players-Lasky Parisian find, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to make his first American picture.

Sans patent leather hair, side-burns and an air of utter boredom de Roche is the forerunner of a new brand of screen heroes even if his suit at the Ambassador did reek with an exotic perfume. Despite the fact, he wore a screaming check suit and chamois gloves of brilliant yellow until a solo-timed friend of his mother pulled him out of his trick clothes before ushering in the scrubs, de Roche seems to fall into the category limited by the expression "a bore."

His mission is to fill the void in the Lasky ranks of actors caused by Rudolph Valentino's salary squabble and will first appear with Dorothy Dalton in "The Law of the Lawless" and then in "The Spanish Officer," which is to have been a Valentino vehicle. But de Roche resents the New York papers' immediate indication that Gov. Smith would interview to prevent the shooting.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH:
BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 22.—What may prove an important new oil field was heralded today by the announcement that the Standard Oil Company has brought in a 500-barrel gusher of high gravity oil on its Wheeler Ridge wildcat holdings.

The oil is located in virgin territory thirty miles southwest of Bakersfield, with the nearest producing well twenty-five miles away.

About five miles west of the State highway, the new well is between seven and eight miles northwest of the Tejon Pass.

The oil company started drilling about eighteen months ago on land owned by the Kern County Land Company and put down a test well which was later abandoned.

Three months ago a new well was started one-half mile west of the abandoned location and at 2000 feet oil of 35-gravity was struck.

Geologists believe that oil in large quantities underlies the low hills fringing the Ridge Route, where the highway enters the mountains south of Bakersfield.

SPOUSE LIKED TO CARESS WOMEN, WIFE COMPLAINS

A divorce suit in which $375,000 is involved was filed yesterday by Mrs. George Eisenhut against her husband, Charles Eisenhut. She asserts moral cruelty.

The couple have been married twenty-two years and sought on the 8th inst. Mrs. Eisenhut the company of other women, giving the possibility and never missed a chance to fondle and caress them.

The community property is valued at $200,000 and in addition $100,000 in life insurance. Mrs. Eisenhut claims she has stored up $100 stock in Machris Brothers' syndicate. She asks a division of this.

FIREMEN ASK PAY RISE

Chief Scott Follows Oaks' Request; City Council to Get Plea for Relief

Police Chief Oaks having started a drive at the City Council to obtain increases in pay for policemen, Fire Chief Scott yesterday came to the front with a similar request for members of the fire department.

Members of the police and fire boards yesterday conferred with the Mayor relative to salary increases for firemen and policemen and it was agreed to authorize Chief Scott and Chief Oaks to plead the case of the firemen and the policemen with the Councilmen.

Councilmen Musket and Sparks are known to be favorable to the requested increases if funds are found to be available.

Chief Oaks asked for no increase for himself, but requested $20 a month increase for the various ranks in the department, including a flat salary of $170 for porters, $120 to $150 a month.

Chief Scott's schedule of proposed increases was as follows: Chief, from $350 to $444 a month; assistant chiefs, now $275, to $380 a month; captains and lieutenants, now receiving $175 per month; while engineers would receive an increase from $170 to $205; while drivers would receive an increase from $150 to $170, while the sliding scale of firemen, now $120 to $150 per month, would receive a new wage scale of $140 to $170 per month.

Up to this time the city by virtue of their State charters have been able to operate behind barred doors and in this way block all attempts of the city police to enforce the laws against gambling.

Under the new ordinance they will have to obtain a license to operate from the Board of Police Commissioners, which will then be in a position to forbid the custom of barring doors against local officers.

"My wife she sees one meter, eighty-two centimeters and so weight see eighty-two kilograms,"

Chief of Police Oaks expressed yesterday his satisfaction with the new ordinance.

MINISTERS SUPPORTED BY LAYMEN

Nelson Denies Churches Are Split on Question of Woolwine Recall

Reported that the United Church Brotherhood had presented a letter to members of the Ministerial Union opposing the latter's fight against Dist.-Atty. Woolwine were denied last night.

Dr. Charles F. Nelson, head of the Brotherhood, said that some member of the organization might have prepared a letter, but that none had been submitted to the brotherhood.

He said the Woolwine matter had been kept under wraps in an informal way when a few of us had gathered, but that the matter had not come before the organization for action.

The brotherhood, composed of laymen of the churches whose parishes form the Ministerial Union, decided to support any responsible movement to cause the recall of Mr. Woolwine.

"The United Church Brotherhood," declared Dr. Nelson, "has agreed to give Mr. Woolwine opportunity to fulfill his promise to have the Wright Act enforced. Dist.-Atty. Woolwine, Burke, but nevertheless if the Ministerial Union insists on a recall the United Church Brotherhood stands ready to co-operate with them."

BOY SURVIVES CLIFF TUMBLE

Uninjured Though He Dropped More Than Eighty Feet to the Rocks

The gods who watch over the safety of children were more than watchful in the case of Oliver Mapes, 14 years old, of 1545 East Fifth street. Yesterday Mapes and his chum, Diego Toran, 11 years old, of 1544 East Fifth Place, took their bicycles and went riding in Elysian Park.

The older boy, in the lead, dashed over a cliff, falling eighty feet to the rocks below. He picked himself up, bruised and scratched, but little the worse for year. He was given emergency treatment at the Receiving Hospital and sent home with a warning to be more careful while at play.

FILM STARS WILL HELP GUARDBALL

Society Leaders as Well as Cinema Lights Promise Aid for Regiment

With society's leaders as patrons and patrons, with the ranking stars of the pictures taking active part and with a dazzling gathering in attendance there is every indication that the annual regatta to be held Saturday evening at the National Guard Armory in Exposition Park by the One Hundred and Sixth Infantry will be one of the season's most colorful affairs.

Miss Williams has been made to mark the occasion according to Col. Walter P. Story, commanding the regiment.

The proceeds of the affair will go toward outfitting the new armory and toward maintenance expenses. Whereas other cities throughout the United States have raised hundreds of thousands of dollars for their guard units, Los Angeles has been raising in this respect, and the local soldiers are making an earnest appeal for an indefinite number.

If we cannot get all the speeders in the courtroom I will address the heaviest of the week from all indications. There are fifty cases to be called, a number that will tax the capacity of the courtroom. Judge Chambers said he was ready, however, to take care of an indefinite number.

All the personnel of the One Hundred and Sixth are overseas and will be unable to be here to serve "over there." The purpose to which the proceeds of next week's affair will be devoted, will be to help equip the magnificent new armory building with the thousand and one things which a structure needs to make it complete.

The Tuesday night before the ball will see, as a regular weekly attraction, the public dinner and drill at the armory, to which Angelinos are warmly invited. Diners from 6 to 7 o'clock, the lectures each Tuesday, from 7 to 8 o'clock, are by nationally-known Army men. The drill from 8 to 9:30 o'clock is always an interesting feature.

SCHOOL PLANS ANNOUNCED

Architects Appointed for Construction Work That Is Expected to Cost $2,000,000

Architects to draw plans for new school buildings, including additions, which will cost nearly $2,000,000, were appointed by the Board of Education yesterday. The buildings are to be erected with the proceeds obtained from the sale of the first $2,000,000 of the bonds voted last June. They are expected to be completed in time for the opening of school next fall.

The new building program includes a $400,000 structure for the part-time instruction department. A

ARTISTS THRILL ALL RADIOLAND

Unusually Fine Concert Sent From KHJ

Brilliant Singing Features Program

Violinist Wins Invisible Audience

Old Man Microphonist the ear of the radio world, which picks up and assists in passing on to millions of listeners the work of artists and speakers in a broadcast studio—undimmed by the strain of four hours and fifteen minutes of strenuous work, the day before yesterday did yeoman duty in giving to the radio music three concerts at KHJ, which for quality and technical skill were more than sufficient to please the most exacting.

The soprano, a tenor, three pianists, a violinist and a nine-year-old girl, each with his or her own personal touch, had done their three concert periods, and the artistry of these people went into the homes of the nation to charm, to educate, to spread the passing hours.

Comparing it in its charm of work, some would say that the dramatic and others lyric in its quality, the voice of Gladys Terrell, who has earned in the Southwest an enviable reputation among music lovers, may exceed expression into the air. Other selected songs in the afternoon concert, accompanied by Ruth Chambers, a much sought-for pianist by the singing schools of Los Angeles, Gladys Terrell interpreted "Call for You," by Hartman; "I'm a Little Bit Shy," by Gaddes; "I'm an Indian," by Harriet; and "Bonnie Sweet Bonny," by Gilbert, clothing these songs with a richness of which the composers could well be proud.

TWO PIANO SOLOS

Ruth Chambers, besides accompanying Gladys Terrell, rounded out the afternoon concert program with two piano solos, one by Ruth Chambers of "Waltz in G Minor" and Mrs. Dowdell's "Song as an Indian Lodge." Miss Chambers has a keen sense of artistic values, which is reflected in all her piano work, and this was specially evident yesterday.

Unfortunately, she has been unable for this group of musicians to grant requests since they come to the Times between shows, which means taxicabs, speed and a whirlwind program, that they may return to those audiences in the flesh.

Of course, it is in individual instance who finds this condition of affairs not to his liking. The last time the Sherwoods were heard from KHJ reports came in from nearly every State in the Union, from women pianists who had had board and room, and the pleasure of hearing the soprano singer Evelyn Lane in concert and recital work, but through the medium of KHJ. Many have been the letters and telegrams sent to the radio station from the department offering suggestions and praise for Miss Lane's vocal interpretations on other occasions. Besides furnishing the musical setting for Uncle John's "Lambkin" and "The Owl" by Willis and "Love Me When I'm Gone" by Fred Waring, who accompanied by Ivy Mae Travis accompanying, Miss Lane had a major part in the de luxe $10-25 concert program.

In this final come out Miss Lane gave a group of offerees a concert both for their appreciation of giving her ample opportunity to show the range and quality of her voice and also to give variety to the program. Among these selections were "Song of the Hills" in its composition, "Love," "Piano with a Heart," other songs included "I'm Afraid," by Negro; "Dawn," by Curran; "Wind Song," by Bombeck; "The Wind in the South," by Scott; "The Lonely Night," by Ronald, and "Tango." Chaperone again Gladys had opportunity last night to hear a violinist who, through previous broadcast concerts from KHJ, has endeared herself to listeners in. Elsie Marion, art-pupil and assistant teacher to George Chamberlain, the young Russian violinist, with Ivy Mae Travis accompanying, gave three violin solos, which, for rare technique and exceptional finesse, stood out prominently as a feature of last night's final broadcast. Each selection was distinctly individual, including compositions by Mendelssohn, Achron, Cui and halo.

Again that group of singing musicians that assisted in the opening of KHJ as a Class B station, who have won the right to their synchronization in the last eighteen weeks they have been featured in the daily programs of the Kinetophone—the singing Sherwoods and their talented band, lavished on listeners a half hour of syncopation. Virtually this may be their swan-song appearance at KHJ, since their Kinetone engagement has been terminated.

On this final evening of the week, headed by Bob and Gert Sherwood, this musical organization produced a program of music that makes one eager to have them keep on playing indefinitely. Every time they have played for KHJ radio folk have been generous, both with their purse and with requests.

FINES AND SENTENCES FOR THEFTS

Accused Shoplifters Face Court for Offenses and Pleas Are Entered

Rosita Martini, a striking Spanish brunnette, who is engaged in motion pictures, and who lives at 790 Orange street, appeared before Justice Frederickson yesterday on a charge of shoplifting. She pleaded guilty. The justice looked over his glasses at the report on the case and said:

"Fifty dollars or fifty days."

As Miss Martini had $50 up at ball, she let that go into the maw of justice, and departed the court, a free woman.

"Poor advice" was to blame, said Miss Martini, and her ignorance of court procedure helped boy her out of trouble.

She denied the accusation that she was a thief, but said she pleaded guilty to obviate further entanglements.

Operatives of the Retail Merchants' Goods Association testified that they found her in a downtown department store with articles in a shopping bag which they said she had not purchased.

Janice Martineau, 798½ Edgewater, pleaded guilty to shoplifting at a downtown department store and will be up for sentence today.

A straight jail sentence of sixty days in each instance was imposed on Rose Martines and Isabre Esparza, both of whom were suspended.

The latter two were brought together at a large store early this week, and when arraigned pleaded not guilty.

Judge Frederickson, on the evidence produced, found them guilty yesterday, and the sentences resulted.

The women lived at 225 East Fourth street.

Six months later after he had gained renown as a sergeant in the Point du Jour, the sector of Verdun battlefield, came his promotion to lieutenant. In the battle of the Somme he was entombed with a machine gun crew and taken prisoner. In Bavaria and West Prussia prisons he remained for twenty months until he was exchanged shortly before the armistice and sent to Lausanne and Geneva, Switzerland, to recuperate.

For the past three years he has been Bill Harting and Tom Miller in France's filmdom as the King of the Camargue, the country round about Arles which is to rather than to this country. Stunts were his specialty and he has always scorned the use of a double, he asserts.

STARTED WITH LINDER

His motion-picture debut was in 1913 with Max Linder.

His eighteen months' contract with Lasky at probably $1000 a week comes as the result of trying given him by the corporation's London branch.

Nowadays he is his preference and he raves about Dorothy Dalton, with whom he is to make his first picture.

Interviewing him is like watching three-ring circus. To put across his remarks he uses his hands, feet, body and eyes in a most distracting manner, and he seems like a man who would use his hands in a right.

FIRE CAUSES NEAR PANIC

Fire in the Harvard Apartments, 225 South Alvarado street, yesterday caused a loss of approximately $3000 and precipitated a near panic among the scores of guests.

The blaze was discovered by Mrs. S. A. Edwards, the kitchen of an apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Brogan. She immediately gave the alarm and the scores of guests rushed to the street, carrying as much of their belongings as they could.

The abrupt arrival of the fire department quelled the incipient panic and the blaze was extinguished in a short time.

The apartment-house is owned by H. O. Vogel, 494 H. W. Hellman Building, and leased by D. Thomas.

MEXICAN PICTURES EXHIBITED

Artists and Visitors Are Invited to Reception at MacDowell Galleries

All local artists or visitors here are invited to a reception tonight at the Mexican painting exhibit in the MacDowell galleries, Tajo Building, First and Broadway.

Xavier Guerrero, Mexican artist, will welcome American artists and students there, and the popular tendencies of painting in the lands of the Aztec, Leandro Gómez Leal, Mexican Consul, and other prominent members of the Mexican colony will be present.

The exhibition of pictures continues through Saturday. Guerrero's work and also pieces by the popular Mexican artist, Adolfo Best Maugard, as well as many pieces done by students of the public schools and art academies of Mexico City. The reception will begin at 8 p.m.

The exhibit of paintings will continue until December 1, being open to the public from 9:30 to 5 p.m. The exhibition of Mexican Indian costumes will be conducted by the Mexican government at West Seventh street will close tomorrow night. Students at the art department of the University of Southern California inspected the arts and crafts exhibit yesterday.

Many groups from local colleges and schools, public and private, have taken advantage of the chance to study the Indian handicrafts since the exhibit opened two weeks ago. There will be a final concert by the Mexican Charro Orchestra at the Seventh street exhibit tomorrow night.

UNION OFFICIAL
HITS STRIKERS

Needles Walkout Sponsored by Wobblies, He Says

Outbreak Not Authorized by Brotherhood Heads

Witness Tells of Insults
Hurled by Radicals

The climax of the prosecution of the government against the Needles strikers, came before Judge Bledsoe and a jury yesterday with the testimony of John Bannon of St. Louis, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. Bannon crossed the continent to say that the strike at Needles, on August 19, that resulted in the abandonment of the westbound trains on the Santa Fe, was not only unauthorized by the officers of the "Big Four," but that he was taunted with being "a scab from St. Louis" by his own members.

A statement that Bannon had removed thirteen chartered committees, including some of the defendants on trial, for calling the strike, and a pamphlet printed by the brotherhood giving an account of the investigation held in Los Angeles, in October, of the Needles outbreak, showed that the strikers did not have the backing of the brotherhood, were not allowed to go to the jury.

DENOUNCED BY LEE

Bannon said he went to Needles at the request of Chairman Lee telephoned to him from Cleveland to the Majestic Hotel in Chicago asking that he go West immediately to inquire into the Needles situation, which Lee denounced as disgraceful and reprehensible on August 19. The witness said that he had examined the equipment of the Santa Fe at all terminals, and found there was nothing in the contention of the strikers that it was deficient in any particular.

Bannon said the strikers told him that it was not a brotherhood affair, but a union strike. Judge Bledsoe asked what was meant by a union strike. The witness replied that it was engineered by the I.W.W., and instanced a meeting of the engineers of sixty-eight men, of whom forty-two were members of the I.W.W. Bannon had some difficulty in getting into the opera house where the strikers were congregated on the evening of August 19.

CALLED A "SCAB"

He was told to "take the air" and hooted at as "a scab from St. Louis." He recognized a number of the defendants as being present at that meeting. Chief Stone was referred to by the strikers as being the man who had made a political handover. Similar insulting remarks were made about Chairman Wells, Shepard and Robertson, representing the "Big Four."

The strikers told Bannon that they had not sent for him, did not ask him, and did not expect him from him. Bannon told them that he had come so the Coast to help them and was hissed down. He told them that they had violated their agreement in going on the strike; violated the Federal Transportation Act, and also the arrangement regarding the men who were appointed to be handled. Judge Bledsoe asked what the strikers had to say to that statement.

"Not a word," replied Bannon. The witness related his negotiations with J. W. Lee, assistant general manager of the Santa Fe, that resulted in calling the strike off on August 19, and one of the provisions of that agreement was that if an engineer found a locomotive deficient in equipment he was entitled to call for another before going out on his run.

He said that in all his experience he had never known an engineer who refused to take out his engine because he, in good faith, thought it defective and dangerous to drive, or his master.

Bannon's testimony closed the case for the government, and the defense began by placing W. K. Ackery, an engineer, on the stand. The defense has about forty witnesses, including the eight indicted strikers.

BURCH CASE
JUROR SOBS
OVER PLEA

Then Everybody Laughs
When Silverstein Says
"Lawyers" for "Liars"

Sobs and laughs marked yesterday's session of the Murch trial before Judge Shenk during final arguments of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark for the prosecution and Leo V. Silverstein, defense counsel.

Attorney Clark pictured the broken lives of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kennedy, parents of Belton Kennedy, who was slain on the steps of his Beverly Glen cottage on the night of Aug. 5, 1921. As he shouted his denunciation of Arthur Burch and his wife, Mrs. C. R. Linton, one of the jury, sobbed aloud.

The laughter came when Attorney Silverstein, speaking of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beaumont, two of the prosecution's witnesses, said that they had "had false imaginations" and were more dangerous than the worst lawyers—I mean, liars, in the world." It was an unintentional slip, but the court accepted it.

Attorney Silverstein attacked the testimony of witnesses who told of finding heavy marks of a left front tire tread in a gravel washout near the scene of the killing. He asserted he had parked his automobile while he waited in ambush. He quoted Dick Parsons, who rented an automobile to Burch, as saying that the left front of the machine in question was smooth and would leave no tread marks. In reference to the Beaumont family, he said:

"Paul and you, Mr. Clark, where is your son, son of Beaumont, Beaumont, who is supposed to have talked with Burch? Why didn't he testify?"

Paul Schenck, chief counsel for Burch, took up the argument today and the prosecution will assume its final arguments next Monday or Tuesday. It is probable that the case will go to the jury late Tuesday afternoon.

to toast that HOLSUM makes

QUICK toasting bread indicates a high content of pure cane sugar. HOLSUM contains more than is usual, for it toasts with a crisp surface, firm enough to spread without crumbling, yet the center is tender and moist. Bread containing little sugar or sugar substitutes does not toast well.

This is another difference in bread that makes HOLSUM the superior loaf.

None of the high food value of HOLSUM is lost in the toasting. Only a combination of the sugar results—all of the vitamins, carbohydrates and mineral values are preserved intact.

A bread or as toast, HOLSUM is the best you can buy. And because it is this, it is the cheapest.

Six Votes Now Assured to End Long Delay

Plans Prepared to Aid in Port Rail Unification

The City Council is scheduled to hold a hearing at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon on the Santa Fe's application for authority from the city to extend its transcontinental line to serve Los Angeles Harbor, and judging from the tenor of some of the Councilmen yesterday, the meeting will probably be a lively one. Unless something unforeseen occurs, the Council is expected to end the Santa Fe's long delay in securing the necessary permission from the city for the harbor line and by a vote of 6 to 4 the Santa is opposed, to order the preparation of the franchise.

Immediately upon the presentation by the City Attorney of the franchise within the next few days, the same six votes will approve of the permit and then the California Railroad Commission will give its approval. The Federal Interstate Commerce Commission has already given the Santa Fe authority to build the extension and the delay over the franchise at the City Hall has been the only stumbling block in the way of starting construction work on the line.

SUFFICIENT VOTES

As the result of valuable concessions made by the city to the Santa Fe by Councilman Sanborn, chairman of the Council's Public Utilities Committee, there are now sufficient votes in the Council to approve of the franchise over the opposition of Councilmen Sparks and Wheeler.

Chairman Sanborn yesterday put through the Council a resolution starting the ball a-rolling for future unified operation of all railroad lines at the harbor district, and the Santa Fe has agreed to cooperate with the city in working out a unified plan in the future to prevent duplication of tracks and terminals at the port.

There was a number of sharp verbal combats at the City Hall between Councilmen over the Santa Fe matter. Councilmen Sparks and Sanborn growing wrathful with each other outside of the Council chamber over the disposition of commissionership which had come to the Council in the Santa Fe matter. No blows were exchanged.

APPEARANCE APPROVED

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, the report of former President Sylvester L. Weaver, chairman of the special committee on the Santa Fe Railway extension to the harbor, of the chamber, in reference to his appearance before the City Council last Tuesday morning, was approved. At this time, Mr. Weaver, with Shannon Crandall, a member of his committee, was present at the Council meeting on request of Secretary Frank Wiggins, to represent the chamber in the further discussion of allowing a permit to the Santa Fe Railway to extend its line to reach the docks at the outer harbor.

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors and the special committee, of which Mr. Weaver is chairman, have been working tirelessly to bring about an agreement with the Santa Fe Railway on the entrance of the Santa Fe Railway into the harbor along the lines of the chamber's formal report, filed with the City Council several weeks ago.

EXPLAINS PLEA FOR DELAY

The plea for postponement of action Tuesday by Mr. Weaver, on the motion pending before the Council that the application of the Santa Fe for the harbor franchise be denied, was inspired, according to the report submitted to the board of directors, by the discussion before the Council, leading to the belief that the franchise would be denied. His action was taken to gain more time to endeavor to bring about a more favorable understanding between the railway company and the Council.

Mr. Weaver represented the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce in the proceedings who have gone on record favoring the entrance of the Santa Fe into the harbor.

Owing to the delay being experienced in the negotiations, it was feared by the Chamber representative that a rejection of the application might cause the railroad company to abandon indefinitely attempts to get a line into the harbor district.

Delay Allowed on Plea for New Phillips Trial

Attorney Bert Herrington asked yesterday for more time in which to prepare his plea for a new trial for Clara Phillips, and Judge Willis, sitting for Judge Houser, who is confined to his home on account of illness, granted a move for continuance until next Monday. A hand-picked few were seated in the courtroom when court was opened, but the corridor was jammed with spectators who had come to hear Alberta Meadows' convicted slayer sentenced.

If Judge Houser has not recovered by next Monday, Judge Willis will sit upon the defense attorney's move for a new trial or pass sentence. The jury found Mrs. Phillips guilty of second-degree murder.

"BEAUTIFUL MAN" IS HELD FOR BAD CHECK

Julian Corbett, "the most beautiful man in the County Jail," was held to answer on a forgery charge yesterday by Justice Baird, who fixed bail at $1500. Corbett is charged with having forged a $10 check with the name of Harry Bright, 1711 Central avenue, and passing it to filling station on Wilshire Boulevard. Deputy Sheriff Bright testified that Corbett admitted writing the check at the time of his arrest.

State Federation Planning Attack on System

President Outlines Aims of Organization

Penwomen Have Interesting "Thanksgiving" Session

BY MYRA NYE

A mighty crusade against the whole war system—the outlawry of war, the exaltation of peace and the industrial pursuits of peace—is the program for the California Federation of Women's Clubs that will be carried by the president, Mrs. William A. Flanagan, and the state chairman of international relations, Mrs. Harriet E. Owen, of San Francisco, at a luncheon given in honor of the president and other State officers by the Los Angeles Club, which is with Mrs. John C. Upton, president.

"Convinced that the greatest contribution women can make to the service of humanity is the creation of an enlightened public opinion that will stand the test of war and believe that our sacred obligation to those whose lives were sacrificed in the World War and to those who are following us in our efforts to make future wars impossible, may I urge that during the year's time before the biennial convention to be held in 1924 we send our united efforts to the general attack if there are to save civilization itself, world peace," Mrs. Fitzgerald began.

"Let us assume the moral obligation of intelligent upon the vital subject of international relations through the study of international laws and through accurate knowledge of the definite progress already made toward a better understanding among the nations of the earth, keeping closely in touch with the women of our sister nations."

"Many times has the statement been made that war would end when all the women of the world would gather and work for peace. Can we devote our energies to anything more important than preparing ourselves for intelligent participation with women throughout the world in this greatest of all crises—mobilizing for world peace?"

Mrs. Fitzgerald's eloquent plea awakened instant response among the 200 women who were seated about the long tables in the hall, and each speaker who followed her took the keynote of her message, and adding new notes increased the melody and harmony of the re-main.

Other honor guests and speakers included: Mrs. Josiah E. Lowies, honorary president of the General Federation; Mrs. Sidney Thomas of the National Council of Women, and each speaker who followed her took the keynote of her message, and adding new notes increased the melody and harmony of the re-main.

The Los Angeles Branch, League of American Penwomen, held an unusually delightful Thanksgiving meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Bertha Lincoln House, Tuesday the 21st inst.

The study of the Constitution of the United States, its sources and its application by Thomas James Weston, published by Little Brown and Company, occupied the early portion of the program.

Conrad Nagel gave a reading of "Thanatos" accompanied at the piano by his father, Dr. David Nagel, in a most appropriate musical setting to this wonderful poem given added enjoyment.

Mrs. Arthur Farwell delighted with her ingeniously clever readings with the wit and flavor of the American poet whose books "The Mad Man" and "The Runners" have been so successful.

Announcement of a contest and requirements were made by the president, Mrs. Roscoe, and the trustees, the latter set to exceed one thousand words. First prizes are for active members only. All members may compete for second and third prizes. The prizes: First, insignia pin of the club; second, a gold bracelet; third, "The Grey Horizon" by Clifford Howard; fourth, year's subscription to "The Penwoman." The prize-winning numbers will appear in the January publication. Fifth place will feature the California number. THE HISTORY OF ME BY ME

Chapter XXXIV
More Exercises

I told you last week about some of my exercises that I take and this week I shall tell you more about them. There are lots of little exercises that we babies can take with the help of our Mamas or our Daddies. The chief thing to remember is that we must not be exercised so long that we get tired. And the moment we show that it is not any fun for us to you must stop.

When Mama first began she did not exercise me as long as five minutes, but now it takes me ten or fifteen minutes to go through with these. I told you about the arm exercise of pulling my arms up to my head. Mama gives me another arm exercise very gently (all of the exercises are gentle, of course).

This is done by stretching my arms outward at the sides and bringing them forward over my chest. Then she gives me another exercise by moving my arms around in a circle very slowly. This helps expand my lungs and keeps my shoulders well back, and develops my chest.

I have a sitting up exercise that I like very much. While I am flat on my back, Mama takes me by the wrists and pulls me up gently to a sitting position. When I got to this stage I could do those exercises with grace and agility. I began to find that I could stand on my own feet, and it was quite a moment in my life, when this was accomplished you must understand.

When I get to the sitting-up stage of the exercise Mama pulls me forward a little bit. I stiffen my legs and the first thing I know I am almost standing erect. Just for a second, you understand. Of course, I am not allowed to stand on my feet more than a half second, for I am not strong enough to do that yet.

Mama puts me right back to my lying down position. We only do this exercise three or four times a day. Of course, we were not getting the proper food, so if my bones were not developed properly, these exercises would not be advisable. However, the danger of a baby's being bow-legged is not so much from using its legs too soon but from improper foot and lack of sunshine from the sun.

During my waking hours Mama places me on my abdomen and naturally I want to see what is going on while I am awake, so I move my head and I push down with my arms and I stand up with everything goes to clubs, pants, shopping and hasn't a notion of staying at home in an armchair and a cap. In fact, I even suspect Wakeman's of smoking cigarettes, and she certainly does!

But Helen is always at hand—drive the automobile, to insist upon mama's rest hours, to chaperone mama's more venturesome escapades, to see that mama is properly wrapped up on chilly days.

Mrs. Ralph Burdick is another beautiful and devoted daughter. She too, has a mother who is advanced in years but young in health and vivacity, a dainty little mother, who is the pride of her daughter's heart.

And there is Mrs. Withers, daughter of that wonderful Mrs. F. Howard, also 92, who is still ardently alive. Mrs. Withers, too, guards and loves this precious mother of hers with an unswerving devotion.

These are but a very few of the devoted daughters to be found in clubland, and one of them a delight and an inspiration to all who know them. Every one of them willing to make any and all sacrifices for "mother."

We talk a good deal about the duties of mothers in clubland, quite frequently about the regrettable neglectfulness of daughters. But when a daughter is devoted to an aged mother, we do rather accept it as a matter of course, yet it means constant sacrifice, material, emotional, all-pervading, tender care that counts no cost, holds no reservations, and cannot be taken up or neglected at will, as so many of our other devotions can.

ABOUT OURSELVES

BY ALMA WHITAKER

At the end of the last club season a smart and pretty club woman confided to me that she did not approve of all this gushing affection on exhibition between women in clubland—the girls offered bows, quiet bows and roses, which the ultrasmintelists showered upon each other. She used rather a harsh word to describe it, and apparently considered it seriously inimical to club life.

I did not entirely agree with her, because, after all, it is a harmless enough sort of diversion—and even the men's clubs go in for a bit of intercomplimentary gush and testimonial presentations once in a while.

Very well, then. But now this same smart and pretty club woman has become herself quite an alarming sentimentalist. At a recent picnic given by the local hostesses the occasion was largely a series of complimentary speeches by the hostesses, directed to individual guests, who rose to reply in good measure, and the emotional atmosphere was intense.

And some of them had sent her floral bouquets, too, which she publicly acknowledged with tears of emotional gratitude in her voice. In fact, it was a feminine love fest.

It is a great pleasure to anyone who reserves that sort of thing for exceptional private occasions, and for whom even a little hand squeeze often suffices.

But I am not really criticizing that particular girl, or others with similar and fine taste. I am only remarking upon the extraordinary change of heart which the smart and pretty lady has so obviously experienced. Our own sentimentality is always the most reasonable.

Everyone who comes home from New York brings glad tidings of Dr. Luis Peters. Dr. Luis is upon the scene again, and not only is she running her syndicate health stories with triumphant success throughout the country, but her Diet and Health book is selling like wildfire, publishers are pressing her for more, and she is making speeches everywhere at from $100 up. She is also living in great style at the Lafayette Hotel, employs a staff of secretaries, and looks as radiantly chic as she always does. Hooray for Luis!

Mrs. Sloan-Oreott has been seriously ill, and is only now on the mend. Bouquets are entirely in order. One of the most generous women in clubland, Mrs. Sloan-Oreott is famous for her sympathetic and generous nature. If she is generous with her wealth, generous in service, generous in speech. If anyone can possibly be defended no matter how dubious their standing, Mrs. Sloan-Oreott can be trusted to find a defense. And she has done little for nothing, and is in the most devoted of daughters. Likewise she will be remembered as one of our most enthusiastic and capable parlor commissioners—she is strictly a labor of love. At garden fairs and bazaars she always quickly buys up all the white elephants, so that the donors' feelings won't be hurt. At charity card parties she buys up tables and chairs for less money, less financially able to contribute.

Talking of devoted daughters, clubland teems with them. For instance, there is little Miss Van de Grift, whose devotion to her aged mother, now 97, is one of the most remarkable instances of filial piety.

Hence many very sincere little girls have been offered up for her during her illness.

Now Is The Time Cranberries For Preserves

Then you can enjoy the delicious flavor of this health-giving fruit every day in the year.

Cranberries are reasonable in price. They are easily and quickly prepared—no peeling—no cutting—no waste. Economical!

You can make 10 tumblers of jam with 2½ pounds of sugar and 2 pounds of cranberries! Try this recipe:

Cranberry Jelly

Cook until soft the desired quantity of cranberries with ¾ pints of water for two cups of jam. Strain the juice through a jelly bag.

Measure the juice and heat it to the boiling point. Add one cup of sugar for every two cups of juice. Boil for five minutes; skim and pour into a porcelain or crockery mold.

Always cook cranberries in preserving jars lined, enameled, or aluminum vessels.

To be sure of a selection of the choice varieties—ask for Eatmor Cranberries.

Hamburger's
ESTABLISHED 1881
Broadway, Eighth and Hill Streets.

Coat Values! Coat Values!

—we believe there are none better in the whole wide world

That's a mighty big belief—but we have the values to justify it.

We feel pretty sure no store anywhere can boast bigger coat values than those offered at Hamburger's today in coats of the finer kind.

Surely, there are no better materials put into coats at the prices quoted here than those used to make the coats of ffered in this event. For the most part they are those rich, supple, alive-with-quality fabrics that are produced by the foremost makers of fine coatings.

And the same superiority is present in the styles and in the workmanship.
Every coat had its inspiration in a model costing many dollars more, every one was designed and fashioned by a master couturier and every one was made with the utmost skill and precision.

They are coats that will be appreciated by women and misses whose dress must reflect distinction and originality, and they are values that will be quickly heeded by those who are eager to combine economy with the best in style and quality.

Values In Coats

Value-Group 1—Women's 75⁰⁰
and Misses' Fine Coats . . .

At this price one enters the realm of the finer, richer materials that are so alluring in themselves, to say nothing of the charming styles into which they have been developed. Models in Ormandale, Minerva, Normandie, Panvelaine, and Lustrosa show the newest draped effects, the deep peasant blouse and straight-line effects varied with new ideas in tucking—many sumptuously trimmed with wolf, squirrel, beaver and caracul and embellished with chenille, wooden beads, embroidery and stitchery.

Value-Group 2—Women's 85⁰⁰
and Misses' Fine Coats . . .

Fashona, Marcella, Gerona and Panvelaine—glory-fabrics every one, and greatly in demand by women who seek materials expressive of beauty and rich quality. Very notable are the elegant untrimmed Gerona and Panvelaine coats for those women who wish to wear their own fine furs. And just as notable are the exquisite models generously trimmed with beaver, wolf, caracul, and beautiful, soft viatka squirrel.

Value-Group 3—Women's 95⁰⁰
and Misses' Fine Coats . . .

Most assuredly a group of values will be your impression upon seeing the exquisite coats embraced in this collection. Such a generous and artistic use of beautiful, fashionable furs! Great bell-shaped sleeves are often composed almost entirely of fine caracul, while others have huge collars—and often cuffs—of black or platinum wolf, caracul, viatka squirrel or beaver. And there are so many original style ideas in the draped, blouse back and more conservative models. Materials are Fashona, Marcella, Gerona, Panvelaine.

Value-Group 4—Women's 110⁰⁰
and Misses' Fine Coats . . .

Marcova, Tarquina, Marcella and Gerona—four silky, supple fabrics, the finest coatings made—are used to develop the distinguished models offered in this group, which presents a new tight-over-the-hips model with an artistic tie-sash. Many of the models incline to the wrappy effect, making themselves admirably suited for either the street or formal evening wear. Sumptuous trimmings of fox, beaver, skunk, caracul, wolf and viatka squirrel.

Value-Group 5—Women's 125⁰⁰
and Misses' Fine Coats . . .

Here again one finds luxury expressed in fine fabrics and fine furs. Adorable styles for the street and for more dressy wear. A frequent style, and one much favored by fashion, is the long low waistline unusually becoming to the woman inclined to be tall. Odd and unusual sleeves, elaborations of beautiful embroidery, braid, and dull gold stitching are other high lights of fashion found in this group of fine coats. Developed of Tarquina, Marcella, Marcova and Gerona with trimmings of wolf, beaver, squirrel, fox or skunk.

—and there are many, many more luxurious fur-trimmed or untrimmed coats that are genuine values to as high as 225.00

HERE IS BOSS TRAFFIC COP

Machine Guides City's Motorists

Showing "How It Ticks"
R. T. Dorsey, in charge of the traffic regulation machine, and S. Schultz, vice-president of the Acme Signal Company, are seen above viewing the apparatus.

N EARLY everybody has wondered and few have taken the trouble to find out where the station is located from which those new "stop-go" traffic signals are governed. Motorists in Hillhurst have fancied a stern tramp cop sitting at a desk at the police station holding a stop-watch and pointing little buttons in front of him; others in a more cheerful mood have imagined a dainty young woman operating a switch board something like a telephone girl.

BUZZING MACHINE

Well, nobody at all operates the city's down-town traffic signal service. It's a machine, just a clicking buzzing instrument, consisting of such a thing as is built like an electrical switchboard, not very complicated nor very big. It is located, not at the police station or anywhere on Broadway. It is to be found in a concrete-lined cavern in the hillside, back of the rest rooms on the Hill-street side. All the machine needs is occasional care by an electrician and somebody to turn it on and off nights and mornings.

The machine, which is operating signal posts at thirty-two street crossings, nine on Broadway, nine on Spring street, eight on Main street and six on Hill street. At regular intervals the signals alternate going down and up the walls ring and the signal lights are illuminated; traffic moves and stops in perfect co-ordination and all by a machine.

DISK WITH FURROWS Instead of a clock the machine has a disk with furrows in it which is the master timing wheel and by its revolutions governed by a motor; it is as precise as any clock. At present the same and most traffic is moved in thirty-second periods with a five-second interval to clear stragglers, and the north and south traffic goes at forty-three seconds with the five-second interval. A few days ago Capt. McDowell, Police traffic department head, decided to try an alternating system for north and south traffic. For example, when automobiles moved across First street they were stopped at one end. This was done not merely by an adjustment. Its capacity is said to be equal to any number of signal posts that could be put up in Los Angeles.

The system was arranged that the traffic policeman can turn off the signals at his corner and then by moving a switch start them again, thus for traffic jams or when the fire engines or ambulances should demand a clear course.

The mechanical traffic officer, which for want a shorter name is called an automatic timing switchboard, is the invention of a Los Angeles man, F. J. Husband, and is constructed by a concern, the Acme Signal Company. It is said to be the only full automatic traffic machine in the country.

The secretaries of several chiefs of police of eastern cities are expected here this winter to study the workings of the system.

SUES AFTER BEING SHOT BY HUSBAND

Culver City Chef Asks Damages; Charge of War Veteran's Bride Ignored

Paul Peter, Culver City chef, accused by Scott Willmot as the betrayer of his pretty Belgian war bride, Yvonne, yesterday filed suit for $10,000 damages against Willmot as a result of the latter invading his home last Sunday and shooting him.

The suit is an outgrowth of a strange love tangle, disclosed by the woman in a written confession to her husband while she was in a state of depression and contemplating suicide. In the confession she declared that she still loved Willmot, a veteran of the World War whom she married in England five years ago. She asserted that Peter had a strange hold on her and was able to make her do his bidding. She begged her husband to avenge the wrong.

Willmot, accompanied by his brother Lawrence and a friend, went to Peter's home in Culver City and demanded that he corroborate the confession. According to Peter, he died by Peter yesterday he fled into the bathroom and locked himself in, hoping to avoid trouble. Willmot was armed and fired several shots through the door, he stated. One of the bullets took effect in his hand.

Peter's first damage suit for the forced entrance to his residence, the threats asserted to have been made against him, and the wound in his hand. The complaint does not mention Yvonne Willmot.

Willmot was arrested by Detectives Bartley and Allen after the shooting and lodged in the City Jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Since his arrest his wife has expressed a desire to be reconciled to him and he is said to have assented.

ENGINEER DIGNIFIED AS HE ENTERS PRISON

Unbowed by his 74 years, G. N. T. Windmer, who says he is a hydraulic engineer, made a dignified entrance into the County Jail yesterday evening to await the arrival of an officer from San Diego.

The aged man was arrested in Huntington Park by Deputy Sheriff Dewar and Stensland on a charge of defrauding an inn keeper in San Diego. He insisted upon being allowed to appear as an indigent, a small matter, but an unpleasant consequence.

"This is merely a matter of spite work," he told the deputies.
